

Sota Fukushi's Biography

Born on May 30, 1993, in Tokyo, Japan.

He made his acting debut in 2011.

He gained widespread recognition for his role in the television drama KAMEN RIDER FOURZE, followed by notable appearances in morning drama series Amachan.

His extensive body of work includes the Ōoku: The Inner Chambers series (portraying the 3rd Shogun Tokugawa Iemitsu and Arikoto Madenokoji, as well as the Season 2 Bakumatsu arc), Lawyer Sodom, Loveless Lovers, and Tokyo MPD PR Unit 2.

In film, his credits include the Library Wars series, My Tomorrow, Your Yesterday, BLEACH, The Woman in the Lakes, and Kaede.

Fukushi made his first appearance in an international production with the Hulu original THE HEAD Season 2, which was broadcast and streamed simultaneously worldwide. He has since continued to expand his global presence with roles in Netflix Korea's Can This Love Be Translated? and the Japan–South Korea co-production TOKYO BURST. He is also set to appear in the Taiwanese film The Scar-faced Cat : Way of Asura, scheduled for release this winter.